We may also disclose your Protected Health Information in order to provide you with various items and services, such as laboratory tests or medications and to make arrangements for home care services, rehabilitation facilities or other health care services you may need. We may contact you to provide appointment reminders, patient registration information or to follow up about your medical care.

- B. Payment. We may use and disclose your Protected Health Information so that we may bill you or appropriate third party payors for the health care services we provide to you and receive payment for those services. For example, we may need to give your health plan information about treatment you received so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for your treatment. We may also disclose your Protected Health Information to other health care providers so that those providers may receive payment for services provided to you. The types of medical information that may be shared through HIEs, includes, but is not limited to: diagnoses, medications, allergies, lab test results, radiology reports, health plan enrollment and eligibility. Such information may also include health information that may be considered particularly sensitive to you, including: mental health information; HIV/AIDS information and test results; genetic information and test results; STD treatment and test results, and family

More information on any HIE in which we participate and how you can exercise your right to opt-out can be found at: <https://www.andersonhospital.org/opt-out>. If you choose to opt-out of data-sharing through HIEs, your information will no longer be shared through an HIE, including in a medical emergency; however, your opt-out will not modify how your information is otherwise accessed and released to authorized individuals in accordance with the law, including being transmitted through other secure mechanisms (i.e., by fax or an equivalent technology).

If you are not present at the time we share your Protected Health Information or the opportunity to agree or object to the use or disclosure cannot reasonably be provided because of your incapacity or emergent circumstances, we may, in the exercise of professional judgment, determine whether the disclosure is in the best interests of you and if so, disclose the Protected Health Information that is directly relevant to the person's involvement with your health care.

III. YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING YOUR PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION

By law, you have the following rights with respect to your Protected Health Information:

Your Right to Revoke your Written Authorization. You may revoke your written authorization to release your Protected Health Information at any time if you provide written notice to our Privacy Officer, but only as relates to future uses and disclosures, and only where we have not already acted in reliance on your authorization.

Your Right to Request Restrictions on Certain Uses and Disclosures. You have the right to request a restriction on uses and disclosures of your Protected Health Information for purposes of treatment, payment or health care operations or to individuals involved in your care. To request such restriction you must make your request in writing to our Privacy Officer. In your request, you must tell us what information you want to limit, whether you want to limit our use, disclosure or both, and to whom you want the limits to apply (for example, disclosures to a certain family member). We are not required to agree to a requested restriction unless your request is to restrict disclosures for purposes of carrying out payment or health care operations to your health plan, which disclosures are not otherwise required by law, and the Protected Health Information pertains solely to the item or service for which you, or a party other than the health plan, have paid in full. We will notify you if we don't agree to your request for restriction. If we agree to your request for a restriction, we will comply with the restriction unless the information is needed to provide emergency treatment to you. Even if we agree to your request for a restriction, we will still be permitted to disclose your Protected Health Information to the Secretary of the Department of Health and Human Services, in a hospital directory and for other purposes described in this Notice when disclosure is permitted without your authorization (e.g., judicial proceedings, public health activities). Your Right to Receive Confidential Communications. You may request that you receive communications from us regarding your Protected Health Information by alternative means (e.g., by mail) or at an alternative location (e.g., alternate address or telephone number). You must make your request in writing and must submit this request to our Privacy Officer. We will not ask you the reason for your request. Your request must specify how or where you wish to be contacted and to what address we may send bills for payment for services provided to you. We will accommodate all reasonable requests for confidential communications.

Your Right to Receive Notice of Breaches. You have the right under federal and state law to receive notice in the event the security or privacy of your unsecured Protected Health Information is breached. we will comply with your request if your Protected Health Information is readily producible in such format.

Your Right to Amend. You have the right to request an amendment of your Protected Health Information if you believe that the information we have about you is incorrect or incomplete. You have the right to request an amendment for as long as the information is kept by our organization. Your request for amendment must be in writing, submitted to our Privacy Officer and provide a reason that supports your request. In certain circumstances, we may deny your request for an amendment (e.g., if you ask us to amend information that is not part of the medical information about you kept by us, if we determine that your medical information is accurate and complete). If we accept your request, we will inform you about our acceptance and make the appropriate corrections. If we deny your request, we will inform you of this decision and give you a chance to submit to us a written statement disagreeing with the denial. We will add your written statement to your records and include it whenever we disclose the part of your Protected Health Information to which your written statement relates.

Your Right to an Accounting. You have the right to request an accounting of certain disclosures we have made of your Protected Health Information. To request this accounting of disclosures, you must submit your request in writing to our Privacy Officer. Your request must state a time period for which the accounting of disclosures is sought, which cannot be longer than six years prior to the date on which your request for accounting is made. The first accounting request within a 12-month period will be free. For additional requests, we may charge you for the reasonable costs of providing the accounting. We will notify you of the cost involved in advance and you may choose to withdraw or modify your request at that time before any costs are incurred.
